

I'm only a Stage actor, really!!

Ok, I like playing the part of the villain. I like talking about murder and mayhem. I'm not really like that at all. Really!!

But I just read a news article where apparently someone was just like that. I guess that if I ever really committed a crime, the last part I would want on stage is a character who commits the same crime.

I think I may follow this story, if I can. I can see bits of it as the basis for a play.. Sick sense of humor, true..
